FAQ

Q. How does Hydra Light Repair Lotion support skin health?

A. Whether you have oily, combination, normal, or dry skin, moisturizing is essential for maintaining healthy skin. Hydrated skin is happy skin. Since your skin thrives when it's properly hydrated, applying moisturizer daily, both in the morning and before bedtime, is key for healthy skin. During the day, Hydra Light helps protect skin from the visible aging effects of blue light and environmental exposure. At night, Hydra Light supports skin resiliency and its natural nighttime repair processes, as your skin naturally rejuvenates while you sleep.

Q. What are the key benefits of Hydra Light Repair Lotion?

A. Hydra Light Repair Lotion supplies lightweight hydration and is formulated to help replenish skin's barrier, protect against the visible effects of blue light exposure, and support your skin's defense against environmental stressors.

Q. What are ceramides and why are they formulated into Hydra Light Repair Lotion?

A. Ceramides are lipids that are found naturally in your skin. They make up about 50% of the outer layer of your skin, called the epidermis. With age, your skin can't replenish its natural ceramides as quickly as it did when you were young. The active ceramides in Hydra Light Repair Lotion are human-skin-identical lipids, meaning they are the same structure as the ceramides in your skin. Hydra Light's ceramides support and strengthen skin's natural barrier, helping protect against environmental damage and prevent moisture loss. Ceramides help boost skin hydration by locking in moisture, supporting sensitive skin and combating dryness.

Q. What is an adaptogen, and why are the adaptogenic ingredients in Hydra Light Repair Lotion vital for your skin?

A. Adaptogens are natural organisms living in extreme habitats and have adapted to survive in these harsh conditions. With their adaptogenic properties, the amino acid Ectoin and the mushrooms Chaga (Inonotus Obliquus) and Shiitake (Lentinus Edodes) in Hydra Light Repair Lotion can help defend your skin from environmental aggressors and support skin's natural repair processes.

Q. What is the difference between Hydra Light Repair Lotion and Hydra Rich Repair Cream?

A. While both Hydra Light and Hydra Rich share the same results-oriented active ingredients, each formula includes unique moisturizing ingredients that produce personalized hydration properties: light and weightless moisture for Hydra Light with Grape Seed Oil and Safflower Seed Oil, and luxuriously rich hydration for Hydra Rich with Shea Butter and Jojoba Seed Oil.

Q. How do I use Hydra Light Repair Lotion in my skin care routine?

A. Use Hydra Light Repair Lotion morning and night for combination to oily skin. Use Hydra Rich Repair Cream morning and night for normal to dry skin. Or use Hydra Light in the morning for lighter hydration and Hydra Rich at night for richer hydration.
